REAL CIDER. MADE PROPER.

Welcome to Lilley's Cider, we're a family run business which started as a shared passion between a father and son, both with backgrounds in hospitality and a love of great drinks. Back in 2007, Chris and Marc Lilley set out in Somerset with a simple idea: the county that invented cider deserved more.

More Fruit. More Flavour. More Taste.

Fast forward over a decade and they're still side by side in the cidery, tasting every batch and dreaming up new recipes. With 28 ciders and perries in the line-up — from the award-winning Bee Sting Perry to the much-loved Mango Cider — Lilley's has become a genuinely British cider brand that knows exactly what drinkers want.

Brand support:

We have an extensive selection of point of sale items such as posters, glassware, lanyards, bar runners and coasters to help support sales.

INNOVATIVE TASTE & FLAVOUR.

We at Lilley's Cider are down to earth by nature and believe that honesty is the best policy. Unlike other companies, we use real fruit juice to enhance flavour, rather than relying on just flavourings. Every cider is carefully crafted to ensure a vibrant, satisfying taste – more fruit, more flavour, and more enjoyment in every sip.

We're always tinkering and tasting, refining each batch in pursuit of bold, unforgettable flavours. From timeless classics you'd happily share with your Dad to fruity renegades you probably wouldn't, we push boundaries while staying true to our craft.

Great cider shouldn't just be made – it should be imagined, experimented with, and enjoyed with a smile.

NO SHORTCUTS, JUST REAL FRUIT.

We're passionate about crafting modern English ciders that break free from the ordinary, using only the juiciest fruit and finest ingredients to create bold, memorable flavours. At the forefront of flavour, we've been the first to craft many exciting new combinations, setting the standard for modern fruit cider.

While many fruit ciders rely on flavourings, ours pack a punch with real fruit juice — because great cider should taste as vibrant as it looks.

3 EASY WAYS TO DISPENSE FLAVOUR.

Lilley's Cider Bag-in-Box can be poured through a traditional handpull for a classic pub experience, positioned directly on the bar for easy access, or stored in a fridge to keep it perfectly chilled.

Our versatile Bag-in-Box (BIB) format saves valuable space while enabling venues to offer a broader range of flavours with minimal setup. The result is a simple, efficient way to serve great cider – whatever the style of operation.

1 HAND PULL:

Place BIB in cellar and use a BIB converter kit and dispense via a hand pull.

2 BACK OF THE BAR:

Serve at room temperature. Simply place box on the back bar to showcase the product and serve.

3 STORE IN THE FRIDGE:

This has the advantage of being chilled before serving.

"This cider is incredible, it tastes just as good as the full alcohol content. It's delicious, fruity and wonderful."

Established as a collaboration between farmer, Ian Rennie, and artist-turned cidemaker, Peter Stuart, in 2008. Thistly Cross has gained a reputation for making ciders that people rave about. Based at the Cider Shed on South Belton Farm, in the heart of the East Lothian countryside.

Thistly Cross are involved in every aspect of making their award-winning Scottish farmhouse cider.

TRADITIONAL 4.4%

Bright golden colour with aromas of ripe apples. Soft mouthful and low acidity with refreshing fruity finish. Very easy to drink, a real thirst quencher and great session material - to be drunk on a night out.

SCOTTISH FRUITS 3.4%

Hand picked strawberries, elderflowers and blackcurrants make our cider blush. It's floral, fruity and Scottish to the core.

WHISKY CASK 6.7%

A flavoursome cider, made potent in the oak of a Glen Moray whisky cask with a good few lingering tastes to be savoured on the tongue. Initially, a gentle whisky flavour intermingles with a subtle, medium dry cider.
